

An Invitation to Join The LEAGUE

Dear Postmasters, OICs, PMRs;

Now is the time for action and there could be no better time to extend to you a personal invitation to join the National League of Postmasters. Our well-rounded knowledgeable, National Executive Board ranges from Level 11 to Level 24 Postmasters and is excited about the challenges we face and the opportunity to serve you.

Throughout this magazine you will find many reasons to be a part of our organization. Our Adverse Action Program and Legal Benefit plan set the standard for management representation. We act for Postmasters with our legislative efforts and have reached PAC (Political Action Contribution) goals that others envy.

In 1904 the United States had 100,000 Postmaster positions; today we have fewer than 28,000 and many of those are in jeopardy. The LEAGUE consultant for our Post Office Continuance program worked for the Postal Service in the Post Office Closure department and uses his skill and experience to prevent many of the emergency suspension/postal closure efforts going on today.

We pride ourselves as being “The Education Organization,” and you can count on getting exceptional training on our website at www.postmasters.org, in the Postmasters Advocate, and at local meetings and conventions.

We involve all members in our LEAGUE family; retirees, spouses, children and Associate members will all find a place in our organization and are essential to our success. The fellowship and networking at our meetings is another added bonus of belonging to our organization.

We are rich in history, poised for the future. I strongly encourage you to join today and welcome you to become a part of our continued success.
