

The Postmasters Advocate

Rate Card #12 • Effective January 2009

The Postmasters Advocate was established in 1894. It is published 9 times a year by the National League of Postmasters. The LEAGUE is known as "The Education Organization" and focuses on management topics, legislative concerns, and issues affecting the Postal Service. Technology, safety, mail, delivery, career development and skill-building are all part of the publication's features.

The Jan/Feb issue is used as a communications tool to take to the Hill during Forum the first week in February. It features a new congressional directory with all the new members of both the Senate and House, legislative issues of concern to the Postal Service, and information on the workings of the postal system as well as the value of the 10,000 smallest post offices. The Sept/Oct issue covers the annual convention in August and features end-of-year financial and management concerns in regard to the Postal Services and the Postmasters, PMRs, OICs and other members of the LEAGUE. It is mailed to all Postmasters. The LEAGUE publishes an annual postal calendar and polybags it in the October issue for its members.
